

The Sovereignty of God

Hello, this is Michael De Rosa, from the Mountainside Community Church in north Newport, NH, and, lately, I have been thinking about God's sovereignty.

Let me read Psalm 115:3 (New American Standard Bible (NASB)

3 But our God is in the heavens;
He does whatever He pleases.

So the take away is this:

If God really is in control of events, and if He really does want my best, then why don't I just take a deep breath, do my utmost best, and leave the results with God

When practicing this, I have found that I don't have to go through life stressed out, fearing that I made a mistake that will cost me from fulfilling God's wonderful plan for my life.

Nope.

Rather, I am now -MOST OF THE TIME- mindful of His leading

While doing my absolute best

And resting in the fact that since God can create order out of chaos, he can surely take any single day of mine and transform any perceived blunders into something beautiful for His Name's Sake

Because...after all, isn't God in charge anyways?
