

Good Morning, this is Michael De Rosa and today I need to talk with you about the best day of your life: TODAY

Regardless of your past, or your prospects for a better , TODAY is the only day that you get make decisions that will affect the rest of our life. So choose wisely, my friend. Choose wisely.

Let me read to you from Paul's second letter to the Corinthians, chapter 6, verse 2, in which we will see one topic of the utmost importance

Behold, now is "the acceptable time," behold, now is "the day of salvation" —

Why is it that we leave matters of our eternal destiny at the bottom of our todo list, while assuming we will have more time to for such things later one?

Assumptions like these have led to one too many regrets. Just consider the number of times you have heard at a funeral "o he was so young" or "I just did not know. I should have talked with him when I had a chance"

Let me leave you with this thought

Do you really want to base the longevity of your life on assumptions, or do you want to claim TODAY the reality that Christ gives to you and receive the gift of eternal salvation

The choice is yours...the consequences never are!
